Mark is a sought-after corporate trainer of award-winning training company Anagram Group, who trains over 350+ MNCs, government agencies, and universities in Innovation, Leadership and Soft Skills. Mark is a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP) – one of only 15% of speakers globally with this qualification.

Mark is also a Keynote Speaker at conferences, speaking on Innovation, the Future of Work, and Leadership In The Digital Age. Mark is Co-Founder of Anagram Group which was presented the 'Future of Work' award at the 19th Annual Business Awards from the British High Commissioner to Singapore, Scott Wightman and Mr. Chan Chun Sing, Singapore's Minister of Trade & Industry.

Prior to training, Mark had 15 years of international management and investment banking experience in the UK, Australia and Asia for Morgan Stanley, Schroders, Goldman Sachs, Abbey National and Salomon Brothers. In these roles, he was a Global and Regional department director, and managed teams from Singapore, China, India and Japan. Mark designs and delivers Anagram's soft-skills, leadership, management, and new graduate training courses for banks and MNCs in Asia. He is also an Executive Coach for business leaders in Asia. Mark has led large award-winning international teams across 3 continents. This exposure has allowed him to see first-hand what works and what doesn't in a multicultural workplace. His experience leading rapid growth and extensive change gave him invaluable experience in building teams and increasing employee engagement.

Mark's training methods are highly interactive and focus on strategies and personal goals that can be implemented in the workplace immediately, delivering instant return on investment. Mark graduated from the University of Surrey with a Bachelor of Science in Business Economics and Computing. In his free time, he enjoys sailing, travelling and current affairs.

He is also a CSP member of the prestigious Asia Professional Speakers – Singapore and the Singapore Human Resources Institute.
